

The Mis-Made

"It's got a killer bass line, steller guitar solo, thunderous drums, and no matter how intense the instrumentation gets, Jess' vocals never falter." - Christine Caruana, Victim Of Sound

"Made to Burn Bright" - Sin Darcy, Yes Maam

After a hectic year of touring both nationally and internationally, Sydney based, dark pop rock band The MIS-MADE are gearing up for another year of adventure.

The 2013 release of debut EP HOUSE OF CARDS (produced by ARIA nominated Lachlan Mitchell) was backed by a film clip for the title track (produced by Ash Brennan/ Hired Gun TV Productions) and was well received by radio as well as being nominated for 'best independent film clip' at the 2013 AIMA'S. THE MIS-MADE are set to release a second film clip from the EP, for AVALANCHE (produced by Kirsten T Smith) and then returning to the studio to record a mini album with Lachlan Mitchell which will be released in mid-2014.

Before heading back for a solo tour of UK & Europe in September 2014, you can catch a fleeting glimpse of the band at the Lansdowne Hotel Broadway for the AVALANCHE film clip launch on Friday March 28th with supports from Alithia (Melbourne) and Gabby Dever (Sydney). The film clip will be screened on the night so be sure to make it for the first look at the spectacular animation skills of Kirsten T Smith.
